First day covers exist bearing numbers 22v1, 23v1, 24v1, C13v1, and C13v2, either alone or in combination with other stamps from the issue. These likely exist for all cancel-cachet combinations listed. Since such covers cannot represent more than 8% of all first day covers prepared for the issue, prices should reflect a similar ratio, i.e., price range E-F. A combination of variety stamps should increase a cover's value to the G-I range, depending on the number of variety stamps present; and, of course, a cover bearing all four of the "dot between legs" variety would be a true gem that could be valued in the I-K range. Collectors are urged to examine their covers for the issue and report and provide scans of any such covers they have.
